

General Obstetrician-Gynaecologist, Assistant/Associate Professor Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, IWK Health, Nova Scotia Health &
Dalhousie University

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Dalhousie University, invite applications for up to two full-time positions as General Obstetrician Gynaecologists. Candidates should possess an FRCSC or equivalent certification and have strong surgical skills. The department will give preference to applicants with experience and expertise in gynaecologic surgery including urogynecology and minimally invasive surgery. Candidates must demonstrate the ability to collaborate effectively with their peers.

The successful applicants will be based within the Women's and Newborn Health Program of IWK Health in Halifax, Nova Scotia with their clinics located in either the Halifax or Dartmouth sites.

Faculty members report to the Department Head. The successful candidates will hold clinical academic appointments with Dalhousie University. Academic rank will be dependent upon qualifications and experience. The candidates would be expected to be innovative educators involved with postgraduate and undergraduate medical education and have an active interest in clinical or basic research. Faculty members are expected to assume some administrative responsibilities.

Dalhousie University is committed to fostering a collegial culture grounded in diversity and inclusiveness. The university encourages applications from Indigenous persons, persons with a disability, racially visible persons, women, persons of minority sexual orientations and/or gender identities, and all qualified candidates who would contribute to the diversity of our community. Preference will be given to Canadian applicants.

Applicants should submit their curriculum vitae along with a brief statement of their prior experience and their particular areas of interest (clinical, teaching, research) by May 4, 2021. Please submit your application to:
